Letter from Mrs. Alexander Graham Bell to Dr. Alexander Graham Bell. 1331 Connecticut Avenue. Dear Alec:

Won't you just write Mamma a little note just to say how sorry you were not to see her. I do feel very badly that you came and went without a word to her, to her who in days past has been so good to you. I have been reading some of her letters so full of love and thought for you, you as well as me and my babies and it seems as if we had of late years shown so little thought and care to her. What are a few great occasions when you certainly have not been wanting against the daily little acts of love shown. Charlie goes over regularly twice every day for at least five minutes, you have scarcely been there six times since we returned. I do feel so badly and how long can we have the chance to show our love. What's sorrow, afterward; it is love now that's wanted.

Yours ever, Mabel.
